

An aerial photograph of a well-maintained agricultural field. The field is filled with rows of vibrant green crops, likely leafy vegetables, growing in neat, parallel lines. Dark, rich soil paths separate the rows, creating a rhythmic pattern across the landscape. The lighting is bright, highlighting the texture of the leaves and the contrast between the green and the dark earth.

Agricultural adaptation and sustainability

 Nordhassel farm

-120 cows

I/-cow environment

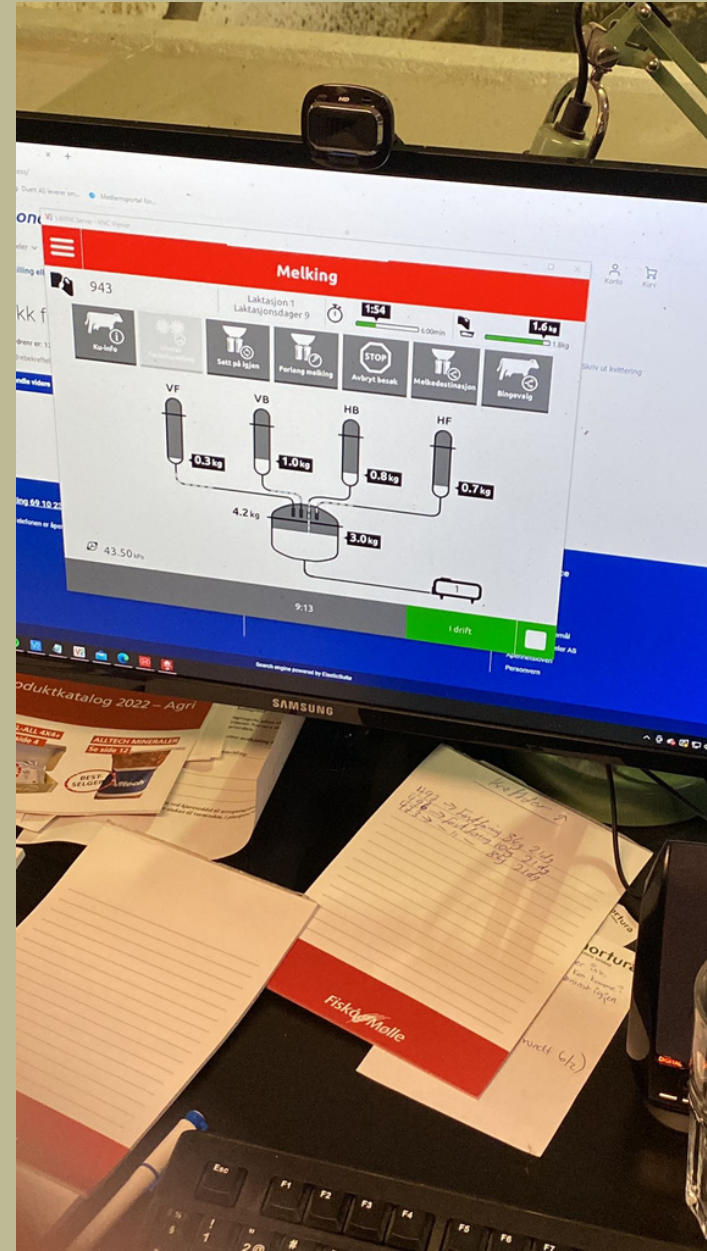

-Inside the winter and outside the summer

-Each cow have a baby per year

Milking machine

How the farm works

Changes been done

Conclusion

Change the world

New projects

Important jobs that need to be taken seriously